THE CATTLE SHOW.

No department at the fair grounds is visited more nor admired greater than the handsome showing of cattle to be seen. It makes no difference what breed one prefers they can find their favorites here, whether it be the faunlike Jersey, the white faced Hereford, the black wool Gallaways or the thoroughbred short horn. They are all on exhibition.

On the north side of the grounds the cattle can be found and the hundreds who passed that way yesterday and will during the remainder of the week will find the first thing which attracts their attention will be the black wool mules belonging to the Gallaway herd of W. G. McCandless of Cottonwood Falls. He has ten head on exhibition, headed by Maudie, a 3-year-old which weighs close to a ton. At the head of his cows stand Helen of Darkness 3rd, Topsy, Helen of Kirkconnell 3d, Helen of Kirkconnell 7th, Fashion, a yearling, 3 bull calves and 1 heifer calf.

Then comes the herd of W. H. Hanson of North Wichita, who has on exhibition a choice line of short horns, headed by Cherub, 11378. His cows are Mitty Jackson the 8th 7th, Mollie Leno, Anna L. Tigges, Helen Gauger, Tilly, Kate Field, Gail Hamilton, Jane Eyer. His young bulls are headed by W. J. Bryan with Tiger Hill and Richard K. H. M. Hill of Sycamore Springs stock farm has six head of Herefords, headed by Cadellae 5534, and such celebrated Herefords as Anxiety Chief, Lavender 5433, Stately 5725, Cordella, Lady Mortimer, Cherry Bow. His herd consists of sixty head of high bred Herefords. He also has on exhibition five head of choice short horns headed by Scottish Emperor 110138, and four other finely bred strains of short horns.

Dr. Fred L. Johnson has his beautiful herd of Jerseys on exhibition, described as follows: Two-year-old bull Aeneas of St. Lambert by Boom; 2-year-old bull Punch by King Oxford's Last; 5-year-old cow Lella of Idylwild, a double grand-daughter of Exalted St. Lambert, sire of 50 tested cows; 2-year-old cow Miss Winnie by Lord Leon; 1-year-old heifer Sweet Alby by Norcut; heifer calf Gen. daughter of Pearl of Oak Glen; heifer calf Julia, daughter of Lella of Idylwild.

Then comes the Holstein-Friesian cattle exhibit by C. F. Stone of Peabody. He has twelve head, which have German Mithilde, Sir Henry 2d at the head. IS VERY CONFIDENT

GOVERNOR MORRILL HAS NO DOUBT ABOUT HIS ELECTION.

He Thinks November Will Develop a Republican Victory From Ocean to Ocean—Big Meetings and Great Enthusiasm—Dumont Smith Brings Cheering News From the Short Grass Country—Long Will Beat Simpson and the Republican Gibeater of Kansas Will be in the Seventh District.

Major Morrill, governor of the state, was in the city last night. He came in on the Santa Fe from the north and went out on the east-bound Missouri Pacific for El Dorado, where he is to speak at a soldiers' reunion. During his stay in the city he had a room at the Carey and the greater part of the time Oscar Smith, Chief Clerk and Chairman of the Central committee were with him.

Before retiring to his room after supper a reporter for the Eagle talked with him in the rotunda of the hotel. He complained of having a serious headache but he insisted it to riding so much. He said the campaign was very wearing on his constitution and that he does not enjoy that robust health which was characteristic of him in earlier life. His looks did not contradict what he said. He seems to have aged a great deal during the past two years. Those dark rings which denote declining health are around his eyes, his face is paler than usual and his step has lost all of its elasticity. He said that Mrs. Morrill's health was not very good also. He seemed to think that the hot weather of August was to blame for a great deal of the ill health prevailing.

Speaking politically the governor seemed to think that Kansas is absolutely safe for himself and the entire Republican ticket. All his meetings are well attended and the enthusiasm shows an unmistakable Republican revival. "Ah," said the governor, "we will have a great Republican victory over the country this year. McKinley will carry everything. He will not find it necessary to have Kansas but we will give it to him anyway."

Dumont Smith of Kinsey was with the governor at supper. Mr. Smith was attending the United States in the ex-Senator Rush case. "This case had a peculiar ending in Judge Williams' court, one that was more satisfactory to Senator Rush than it was to Dumont Smith. A few years ago Senator Rush borrowed from the National bank of Kansas City the sum of $1,000 and gave as security seventy-four shares of stock in his bank at Dighton worth $100 per share. When Senator Rush's troubles came thick and fast upon him he could not meet his Kansas City paper and the National bank of Kansas City sold the security for 10 cents on the dollar and sued Senator Rush for $3,000. The suit was tried in the federal court yesterday and instead of the National bank of Kansas City getting a judgment for $3,000 the jury gave Senator Rush a judgment against the bank for something like $2,000. Senator Rush says that the bank stock he gave to the National bank of Kansas City was for when he gave it and never fell less than 80 per cent of par. He says that the National bank of Kansas City sold the stock to its negro porter, a man getting $12 per month, for 10 cents on the dollar.

Dumont Smith says he will ask for a new trial this morning and that he has hopes of getting it.

Senator Rush had had things coming against him for so long, in his fight with Judge Vandiver, that he felt quite good over a decision in his favor. He recounted his troubles with Judge Vandiver to a reporter for the Eagle and he tells quite a plausible story. The affair is very complicated and it would require a great deal of investigation and interrogation to submit it intelligently. It is a matter that has caused a great deal of bitter feeling in Kansas county and Dumont Smith says that the community is split wide open over the matter. He says that he, himself, has to spend most of his time in Larned settling disputes arising out of the matter. Turning from the Vandiver-Rush controversy to politics, Mr. Smith said that the Republican party was fairly settling the short grass country affair with enthusiasm. He says that beyond doubt the Seventh district and especially the western counties, or the short grass country as he calls it, will be the Gibraltar of Kansas Republicanism next November. In Edwards county, his home, only five Republicans deserted the party this year, while the accessions from the other parties have been ten-fold greater than the losses. He believes that his county will give Chester Long a small majority this fall although it went against him something like 150 heretofore. He says if the eastern counties do as well by Long as the western counties he will be elected by a majority that will startle the state.

Among the other gentlemen connected with state politics who were in the city yesterday was Judge T. F. Garver of the appellate court who is now the Republican nominee for chief justice. Mr. Garver is a fine looking gentleman and he comes nearer being one's ideal of such an important judicial officer than any man who has sought the place for years.

G. A. Gurneson of Kremlin, O. T., celebrated Oklahoma day at Wichita yesterday by getting married to Miss Maud R. Reeves of this city.

The exhibition quarter mile race by Albattross, without sulky, rider or driver. Time 2:05.

Fifth race—Three quarter mile dash; purse $100. Timberland won. Rosewood, 1st; Yewood, 2nd; Abador, 3rd. Time 1:17.

FAIR NOTES.

O. P. Udegmaut gives splendid satisfaction as starter of the races.

The premiums were awarded in the poultry department yesterday.

Crane Winfield of M. H. Hope is the judge of the sheep department.

J. C. Hyde of Sunnydale and A. E. Chambers serve as judges in the horse department.

George Barry of Barryton filled the trying position of judge of the swine department to the satisfaction of all.

Little Harry Liebfried, a boy less than 13 years of age, carried off the sweepstakes prizes in the Berkshire ring.

The exhibition of Albattross pacing a mile without rider or driver was one of the features yesterday which will be repeated today.

Dan Jones as superintendent of the swine department is the right man in the right place. He knows how to please the exhibitors and is always ready to give visitors any information in his possession.

Today is Wichita Day. This is the day the big county races will be had. Stores will be closed this afternoon. Everybody will go today. The program prepared is an entertaining one and all should go early to see everything.

TODAY'S RACES.

The following are the races for today: County race—2-year-olds. Anita H. Cash Henderson; Lina H. G. W. Holbrick; Laura Riley, Henry Schadt; Florence D. George Dold; Simolyte, Dr. Fred L. Johnson.
